

2025 Michael Pozzan Sauvignon Blanc Napa Valley, California

The 2025 Michael Pozzan Napa Valley Sauvignon Blanc is a vibrant white wine that highlights the freshness and fruit intensity that Napa Valley can bring to Sauvignon Blanc. Produced from 100% Sauvignon Blanc and fermented in stainless steel, it is crafted to emphasize bright aromatics, crisp acidity, and pure fruit character. On the nose, the wine is lively and expressive, offering aromas of tropical fruit, citrus, pear, grapefruit, and lemon verbena. The palate is crisp and refreshing, with flavors of mandarin orange, melon, lemon peel, honeysuckle, and stone fruit supported by bright acidity and a clean, energetic finish. Overall, this is a fresh, fruit-driven Sauvignon Blanc that balances richness with vibrant acidity. Its lively citrus and tropical fruit profile makes it an excellent pairing for seafood, shellfish, grilled fish, salads, goat cheese, or light chicken dishes, where its brightness complements fresh flavors and lighter preparations.

2022 Hecht & Bannier Red Blend

Languedoc, France

The 2022 Hecht & Bannier Languedoc Red Blend is an organic Southern French red that captures the Mediterranean character of the Languedoc region through a blend of 60% Syrah, 25% Grenache, and 15% Carignan. Produced by Hecht & Bannier, a négociant known for highlighting regional terroir, the wine is matured in concrete vats to preserve freshness and fruit purity. On the nose, it offers generous aromas of red berries, black fruits, and Mediterranean herbs, complemented by peppery and spicy notes. The palate is medium- to full-bodied, combining the dark fruit and structure of Syrah with the soft, velvety texture of Grenache and the freshness of Carignan. Bright acidity and subtle spice carry through to a smooth, lively finish. Overall, this is a fruit-forward yet balanced red that emphasizes freshness and drinkability without sacrificing character. Its combination of ripe fruit, gentle spice, and supple texture makes it an excellent pairing for grilled meats, hearty pasta dishes, burgers, or rustic Mediterranean cuisine.

2025 Lievland Chenin Blanc Paarl, South Africa

The 2025 Lievland Old Vine Chenin Blanc comes from the Paarl region of South Africa's Western Cape and is sourced from certified heritage vineyards planted in 1985 and 1987. These old vines, combined with careful winemaking and partial fermentation in neutral oak, produce a wine that showcases the depth, texture, and versatility of Chenin Blanc. On the nose, the wine displays vibrant aromas of white peach, citrus, pineapple, and citrus blossom. The palate is rich and expressive, featuring flavors of peach, apricot, citrus, and tropical fruit layered with a distinctive mineral character. Bright acidity keeps the wine fresh and balanced, while time spent on the lees contributes texture and complexity to the long, elegant finish. Overall, this is a beautifully balanced Chenin Blanc that combines ripe fruit, refreshing acidity, and subtle richness. Its versatility makes it an excellent pairing for seafood, goat cheese, roast chicken, mildly spicy dishes, or soft cheeses, where its vibrant fruit and mineral nuances can shine.

2025 Valle Reale Montepulciano Abruzzo, Italy

The 2025 Valle Reale Montepulciano d'Abruzzo is an organic red wine from Italy's Abruzzo region, crafted from Montepulciano grapes grown in the estate's vineyards in Popoli and Capestrano. The combination of Capestrano's warmth and structure with Popoli's freshness and aromatic lift creates a wine that is both expressive and well-balanced. In the glass, it shows a bright ruby-red color and opens with vibrant aromas of blueberries, cherries, licorice, and sweet spices. On the palate, the wine is medium-bodied and lively, offering flavors of ripe dark berries and cherry supported by refreshing acidity, subtle spice, and a smooth, pleasant finish. Its balance of richness and freshness makes it especially approachable while still reflecting its mountain-influenced terroir. Overall, this is a bright, fruit-driven Montepulciano that emphasizes purity and drinkability rather than heaviness. Its vibrant fruit and acidity make it an excellent pairing for meatballs, tomato-based pasta dishes, eggplant parmigiana, mushroom risotto, and other rustic Italian fare.

2020 Agricola Punica Barrua

Sardinia, Italy

The 2020 Agricola Punica Barrua is a celebrated Sardinian red blend from the Sulcis region of southwest Sardinia, combining 85% Carignano, 10% Cabernet Sauvignon, and 5% Merlot. Often referred to as a "Super Sardinian," it marries the character of native Carignano with Bordeaux varieties to create a wine of both Mediterranean warmth and international polish. In the glass, it shows a deep ruby color and opens with complex aromas of black cherry, ripe dark berries, wild herbs, licorice, spice, and tobacco. Notes of myrtle, rosemary, sage, and subtle vanilla add further depth and distinctly Sardinian character. On the palate, the wine is rich and full-bodied yet remarkably elegant, with velvety tannins, concentrated dark fruit, hints of dark chocolate and coffee, and a mineral backbone that carries through a long, persistent finish. Overall, this is a powerful but refined red that balances intensity with freshness and finesse. Its layered complexity and structure make it an excellent match for grilled steak, braised lamb, game dishes, and aged cheeses, while its aging potential ensures it will continue to evolve beautifully over the coming decade.

2022 Reynolds Cabernet Sauvignon

Napa Valley, California

The 2022 Reynolds Family Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon is a classic Napa Valley Cabernet sourced from the winery's estate vineyard near Stags Leap, at the base of Atlas Peak. Composed primarily of Cabernet Sauvignon with a small amount of Merlot, and aged extensively in French oak, it reflects the region's hallmark combination of power, depth, and structure. On the nose, the wine offers plush aromas of ripe dark fruits, including blackberry and black currant, layered with notes of cocoa, spice, and subtle oak influence. The palate is full-bodied and concentrated, featuring rich dark berry flavors framed by structured tannins and a mouthwatering texture. Hints of chocolate and baking spice add complexity, while the finish is long and focused, emphasizing both fruit and structure. Overall, this is a bold, age-worthy Napa Cabernet that balances richness with refinement. Its firm structure and depth make it an excellent companion for grilled steaks, braised short ribs, lamb, or other richly flavored meat dishes, where the wine's tannins and concentration can fully shine.
